Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I'm an assistant prosecutor for Michigan's largest county – Wayne, but I'm also involved in a handful of small businesses. Specifically, my family owns a convenience store in northern Michigan and they are doing quite well because of their opportunity to provide a unique service to their customers. Competition brings out the best in people.

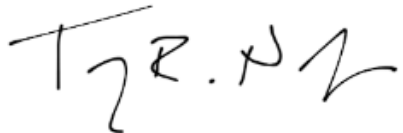

LightSquared has filed an application with the FCC to use a different portion of the spectrum so that they can fully begin to provide service. I believe that their application has true merit and is fully deserving of approval.

My main reasons for this view are that LightSquared will provide additional competition in the marketplace and that they will create much need employment. Both reasons will have far reaching benefits for everyone in this country. I know that the FCC is committed to both of these issues and I hope that will continue for LightSquared.

Additionally, I believe there is a question of fairness for LightSquared. The company has resolved their GPS issues with this proposal. It is now time for the FCC to approve the request. LightSquared has waited long enough.

Your attention to this matter is appreciated.

Sincerely,
